CITY'S SECOND NEW FIRE ENGINE ARRIVES

Torrance's second new fire engine in three weeks arrived here last Friday afternoon to make this community one of the best protected cities in Los Angeles County, stated Fire Chief John E. McMaster.

The new 750-gallon high pressure pumper arrived at the factory for a final Underwriters check-up.

The new $16,000 engine is similar to the 750-gallon pumper delivered here June 20 with the exception that it has a cab, two high pressure reels, and a 500-gallon water tank.

The engine which arrived last week will be stationed at the main fire house. The other new pumper is stationed at Walteria.

Continuing with their expansion program, Stone and Myers Mortuary this week installed a new Hammond Electric Organ, revealed J. Hugh Sherrey Jr., co-owner.

Ellen Swearingen, well known for her special organ numbers at Inglewood Park, will be the staff organist. Specially equipped with dual speaker and Deagan chimes, the organ is the latest and most modern equipment of its kind available, said Sherrey.

Former Marshall joins son in business here. Usually it is the son who joins his father in business, but for John Almond, owner and manager of Almond's Department Store, it was the other way around last week as his father J. M. Almond became associated with his son at the local store.

The elder Almond came to Torrance two weeks ago from Shaw, Miss. where he has served as City Marshall for the past 18 years. He resides at the Mayfair Apartments here.
